

De Strawanza

„De Strawanza“ – Both swing and world music show their unique instrumentation! The two globetrotters „music-in-motion“ Duo Mathi & Susanne are not interested in the question if the Danube’s water flows more beautifully than the one of the Seine or of other rivers. They „play“ and sing English, French and other „languages“ fluently. Using the Saxophone, street organ, vocals und guitar, classical swing, chansons, Jazz and Tango flow into touching melodies and virtuosic improvisations. Lyrical, dynamic, magical, full of dedication, tenderness and wild spirit, their enthusiasm for making music is catching. Inviting to dance along ...

Line-up/Instrumentation:

Saxophone, street organ (hurdy-gurdy), guitar, vocals.

Name explanation „De Strawanzer“: „Strawanzen“ means „to gallivant“ (like a busker) and is a dialect word, an idiom that is used in Upper Austria, in the countryside.
